

MR AND MRS FAIRHURST
CASE STUDY

CLIENT'S STORY

Carl & Karen Fairhurst contacted us, as they were in desperate need of remodelling their old kitchen. The kitchen was way too small for a young family. And they were constantly on top of each other, whilst cooking & preparing food.

SOLUTION

We had decided to take down a supporting wall. Which opened up the whole room creating an open concept kitchen/living space. Karen was particularly keen to have a large island, where the family could cook together & socialise. All the building work & complete electrical re-wire was coordinated by us. The kitchen units were a mix of our slab gloss Dust Grey & Anthracite finishes. Finished off with our ever popular ice white quartz & LVT flooring. We even added in wireless phone charging points into the worktop!

RESULTS & CLIENT FEEDBACK

"Cannot recommend Guy and the team enough for giving us our dream kitchen and dining room. Two rooms knocked into one has given us so much space and an extra living space where the kids can chill out. Nothing was to much trouble even when we changed the design and added extras on, it just wasn't a problem. The kitchen became the "lockdown kitchen" due to building and structural works starting just before and works stopping just before it was due to be fitted but we were kept up to date throughout lockdown and reassured as soon as restrictions were lifted it would be fitted and it was. Even offered to buy us pizzas one night lol. Would highly recommend this team"
